Fifty-Sixth Year | Canyon, Texas Thursday, November 15, 1951 | Number 31

Medals Awarded Outstanding 4-H Club Members

In an impressive ceremony held in the Randall County Courthouse Saturday afternoon, November 10, the outstanding 4-H club boys and girls of this county were presented achievement medals. This ceremony marked the end of National 4-H Club Achievement Week.

During the week of November 3 - 11, some 2,000,000 boys and girls between the ages of 9-21 celebrated as the largest rural youth organization in the world.

Four boys and three girls were presented medals at the Saturday afternoon ceremony by County Judge Burney Slack. Girls receiving medals were Doris Bourn, Naoma Bryan and Jimile Jennings. Boys who received medals were Larry Porter, Doyle Bourn, Charles Conatser and Jerry Parker.

The gold star medal presented each year by Texas A&M College to the county's outstanding boy and girl were received by Doris Bourn and Larry Porter. Doris and Larry were selected by judging committees to receive the gold star medals on the basis of completed projects, club and community activities and general all-round records of excellence.

Jimile Jennings won the dress revue medal for having won the county dress revue and for competing for state honors at the state dress revue.

Doyle Bourn received the boys achievement medal for completing many projects, for his work on the rifle team, dairy and livestock judging team. Doyle received the gold star award in 1950. He is now president of the Randall County Boys Club and also president of the joint 4-H club council.

Naoma Bryan received the girls medal for home beautification. Naoma has made an outstanding record through several years of club work. She won the medal this year on the excellence of her work to improve her home. She is now a student at West Texas State College.

Jerry Foster won the boys medal for meat animal production. Jerry showed the grand champion steer at the Randall County Junior Livestock Show in Canyon in 1951. He now has two steers on feed for next year's show.

Charles Conatser won the field crops award. Charles holds the record as being the only certified wheat grower in Randall County, adults included. The June hail helped Charles harvest most of his wheat this year, but he now has several acres of wichita wheat for certificate seed production.

Herd Reduction Sale Scheduled At Nance Ranch

The Nance Hereford Ranch herd reduction sale has been set for Tuesday, November 20, with the auction beginning at 11 o'clock. Offered for sale will be 235 lots of OJR Royal Domino 10th and Larry Domino Bloodlines.

Offered for sale to the highest bidders will be 35 bulls, 145 bred heifers and 55 open heifers.

Four of the nation's best known auctioneers, A. W. Thompson, G. H. Shaw, Walter Britten, and Gene Watson will call the sale.

O. R. Peterson of the National Auction Company will be sales manager with Harry Holtzer and Frank Reeves the clerks.

The George Nance Ranch is located 12 miles southeast of Canyon, off the Palo Duro Road.

Mr. Nance has one of the largest herds of Hereford cattle in the Southwest, his herd numbering about 1,300 head.

Recently a new record price was set by Nance at the Baca Grant Dispersion when he paid $29,000 for Baca R. Duke 5th, a five-month-old son of Baca R. Domino 33rd.

When Mr. Nance decided to hold his first dispersal sale, he called in Mr. Peterson and George Kleier and they selected 300 head for the sale. That was last spring. They returned during the summer and reduced the number to 235 of the top animals in the herd and they are the ones that will be sold November 20.

Nails in Shingles Are Causing Much Damage to Tires

Ever since the big hail storm hit Canyon, car and truck owners have been having many punctures as shingles blow around with nails still in them.

Arch Hunsley states that trucks hauling shingles to the dump grounds are still strewing the highway and country roads with shingles containing nails.

This is against the law, and Mr. Hunsley states that unless the practice is stopped he will be forced to have some of the truck owners arrested and prosecuted for causing so much damage to tires.

ATTENDS P-TA MEETING

Mrs. Crews Henry left for Dallas Saturday where she will attend the Parent-Teachers Association meeting. Mrs. Henry is the State Magazine Chairman for the P. T. A.

Emergency Blood Bank Given Huge Opening Support

A total of 23 pints of blood was donated Thursday night for the purpose of opening a Canyon Community Blood Bank for emergency use in the larger Potter County Blood Bank in Amarillo. Several local citizens and the Epsilon Beta Fraternity made up the list of doners Thursday night. The turnout was excellent and the drive is on to keep it that way in the future when other donations will be asked.

The drive for donations of blood was encouraged and promoted by the Canyon Chamber of Commerce. Local doctors are lending a hand in the technical procedures involved in typing and taking the blood.

Ordinarily when people go from here to an Amarillo hospital and have to have a blood transfusion they must either have their donor with them or pay a terrific price for the blood plasma. This involves a great deal of expense. A large portion of this expense can be eliminated under the community blood bank system, although people are still encouraged to take their own donor with them whenever possible.

In addition to the Epsilon Beta Fraternity and other local citizens who gave blood for the Community Blood Bank, there were two men giving blood of a rare type for a special transfusion. These two donors were E. A. Stocker and T. M. Thurman.

The activities and preparations are still in progress to type blood for the walking blood bank. For this purpose large groups of people such as clubs are being contacted. The major purpose of the walking blood bank is for cases of extreme emergency.

Governor Shivers To Attend C of C Banquet, Jan. 15

The presence of Governor Allan Shivers has been assured for the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet January 15. An elaborate meal and program are planned in which local dignitaries will entertain the executive head of the state.

In order to make sure that there was plenty of time to catch an open date in the Governor's busy schedule, Cecil Massey, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, extended the invitation last summer.

Recently a telephone call assured the Chamber of Commerce that the Governor would definitely attend.

The entire program is not completely planned at this time. Cecil Massey is in the process of making the best general plans he can at this early date.

Post Office Seeks Cooperation of Mailing Public

The Post Office Department announces that all overseas packages should be mailed early. Another important factor in mailing overseas packages, as well as packages that don't go overseas, is that of proper wrapping. The Post Office Department says, "any package that is worth sending is worth proper wrapping."

If it is possible, all overseas packages should be mailed by November 15th, advises post office officials. It is also of utmost importance to be sure a correct, legible address is on the package. If the Post Office Department is to give its best service to you, it needs your cooperation in wrapping, addressing and mailing packages and Christmas cards.

Upchurch Funeral Conducted Monday

Funeral services for Jess Preston Upchurch were held in Amarillo at Boxwell Brothers Ivy Chapel Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Services were conducted by Dr. Newton Robison, pastor of the First Christian Church, assisted by the Rev. Clifton Ammerman, associate pastor.

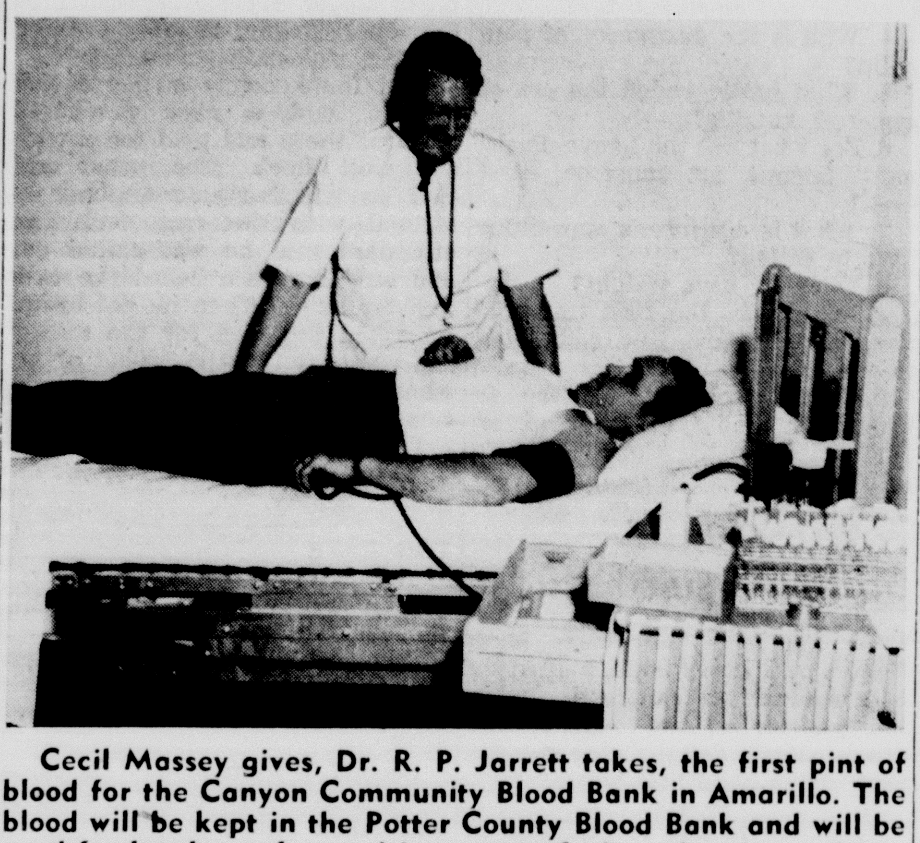
Burial of the Randall County farmer and dairyman took place in Llano Cemetery.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Mae Upchurch; two sisters, Mrs. S. E. Donaldson of Amarillo, and Mrs. Kate Lambert of Paris.

Mr. Upchurch fell from a windmill tower several years ago and broke his neck. He has been in poor health ever since the fall.

Mrs. Jack Neil Cooper and young daughter left Sunday for their home in McLean where Mr. Cooper is owner of a grocery business.

Start Canyon Community Blood Bank



Cecil Massey gives, Dr. R. P. Jarrett takes, the first pint of blood for the Canyon Community Blood Bank in Amarillo. The blood will be kept in the Potter County Blood Bank and will be used for local people requiring a transfusion when in an Amarillo Hospital. Massey was the first of 23 people to donate blood. Among these 23 blood donors were the members of the Epsilon Beta Fraternity at West Texas State College.

Light Vote Is Cast Tuesday on All Amendments

A light vote was cast in all counties of Texas on the five constitutional amendments which were submitted to the people for a vote by the recent session of the legislature.

Indications from Dallas this morning is that four of the five amendments lost in the balloting. The only amendment which seems to be running ahead in Texas was the Veterans Land Fund amendment.

Randall county voters followed the state trend. With five of the nine boxes reported Wednesday morning, the following vote was recorded:

County Pensions: For 96; against 285.

University Fund: For 192; against 188.

Rural Fire Prevention: For 121; against 256.

Veterans Land Fund: For 205; against 174.

Old Age Assistance: For 123; against 254.

Boxes which had not reported at press time were Nos. 2, 5, 7, 8.

P-TA Will Meet at Cafeteria Thursday

The monthly Parent-Teachers Association meeting is scheduled for Thursday, November 15, at 7:30 p. m. in the High School Cafeteria. There will be special music by the Canyon High School Choral group.

The invocation will be given by the Rev. Win R. Matsler. A special feature attraction has been arranged by J. E. Miller, sing-song by Mrs. Margaret Foster and a panel of laymen will discuss the question, "What Do We Expect the School To Give Our Children?" The business on the agenda will be taken care of after the program is over.

Mrs. Pansy Jernberg Succumbs in Dallas

Mrs. Pansy E. Jernberg, 46, resident of Stinnett for many years, died in a Dallas hospital at 10:30 a. m. on October 24.

Survivors include her husband, V. A. Jernberg; three sons, Victor, Jr., Robert and Paul; one sister, Mrs. Pearl Laughery, Wichita Falls; two brothers, Everette Simms, Wichita, Kansas and Ercel Simms of Canton, Kansas; and an aunt, Mrs. Nadine Utz of Amarillo.

The body remained in Borger at the Blackburn-Shaw-Brown Funeral Home until Saturday and was then taken to Stinnett where services were conducted at the First Baptist Church of which Mrs. Jernberg was a member. Internment was in Lieb Cemetery.

CANYON DRUG LEADS IN A. B. C. BOWLING

On Monday night, T. A. Black Dry Goods won two games over Canyon Drug with Palo Duro Dress Shop topping Thompsons with two games.

High scores for the evening were Ruth Foster, 179; Bobbie Ford, 171; and Gladys Odom, 146.

Standings are Canyon Drug, first; Thompson Hardware and T. A. Black Dry Goods tied for second; and Palo Duro Dress Shop trailing for third place.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Tabor visited in the home of their daughter, Mrs. J. H. Scott over the week-end.

Off Again, On Again — Press Rolls as Usual

The Canyon News has experienced its share of troubles during the past few weeks with a transformer on the big cylinder press.

There are several speeds on this transformer, and starting about a month ago one by one these speeds blew out. Finally we were down to only two.

Frantically we had been trying to get repairs from the electric company which made the transformer, and from the printing press company. Neither could furnish the needed parts.

Thursday afternoon The Prairie was being printed, the last notch on the transformer blew out, and we were left high and dry.

Lorenzo Wirt came to our rescue and secured the services of an expert electrician from Amarillo who had worked on printing presses. A new transformer was built, and was installed by 5:15 o'clock Sunday afternoon. This is the first time in 30 years that this thing has happened, and we hope it will be the last time.

Electric Cooking School Will Be Held on Nov. 29-30

The annual electric Cooking School, sponsored by The Canyon News, will be held on Thursday and Friday, November 29-30. All electric dealers in Canyon are asked to cooperate by having displays of their cooking and refrigeration devices on display.

Door prizes will be given daily for the women who attend this school.

The attendance last year was exceptionally large, and it is hoped that there will be an equally large number of women at the Cooking School this year.

Mrs. Dorothy Bell and daughter, Becky, of Fort Worth, are visiting in the home of her mother, Mrs. Bertha Gafford.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Cullender and family of Gruver spent last week-end in the parental E. A. Michael home.

Recent visitors in the home of Mrs. C. N. Harrison were Mrs. R. B. Payne and daughter, Mrs. R. H. Nelson of Hutto.

Mr. and Mrs. K. L. Pond spent Sunday in Borger.

Future Plans for Junior Livestock Association Set

The Randall County Junior Livestock Association met Thursday night in the Canyon High School Cafeteria for a musical program, reports, a talk on the colorful plains background, and to enjoy refreshments and discuss another year of stock improvement.

Talented Juanna Jo Broadaway sang three selections. Her piano accompanist was Miss Faye Marie Beck. Miss Broadaway sang "The World Is Waiting for the Sunrise," "Sweet Sixteen," and "Too Young."

Treasurer report was made by E. M. Myers and afterwards there were three reports by youthful stock raisers. Norman Tucek, owner of the grand champion barrow of the Tri-State Fair at Amarillo, made the first report. Norman told of his experiences, the work and thrills as well as the expense and profits involved in such a venture. He also talked of his trip to the Dallas State Fair where he won first place in his division.

Stirling Cummings made the next report and talked of one of the calves he raised. He explained in detail the process of keeping an account of every move required in raising the calf and preparing it for showing.

The next report was made by Foster Parker, who also talked on show calves. He expounded the importance of obtaining a good calf to start with, establishing regular feeding hours and making sure that the calf gets proper exercise from the very earliest possible date. This exercise is very important in order to correctly distribute the fat, Foster explained.

After the reports, Boone McClure gave some of the colorful history of the high plains area. Following the speech, refreshments were served and after refreshments there was an executive meeting to elect two more members. J. O. Parker and Buff Morris were elected and after the vote was in there was a general discussion concerning the future development of the organization.

Because the urgent need at present is a building, discussion centered about the subject of getting a plot of ground and getting a building on it in the near future.

Charge Filed When Six Plainview Boys Disturb the Peace

Charges were filed Tuesday by John McCarty against six Plainview boys who came to the Palo Duro Park and were destructive to property as well as using abusive and obscene language to the attendants at the Park.

The boys will be brought back here to answer the charges.

Free Cartoons at Olympic Saturday

Another big free show with special attractions will be presented Saturday at the Olympic Theatre. This show will be the second sponsored by Plains Creamery. Charlie Donnell will be donating his time to operate the machinery in bringing this cartoon festival to youngsters at 9 o'clock Saturday morning.

Chief of Police John King will be there to introduce the Junior Deputies. A special invitation is extended to all youngsters who enjoy cartoon comedies as well as those youngsters interested in the Junior Deputy Association organization being formed at this time.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester M. Ford and family of Amarillo visited in the E. C. Penick home Sunday.

Thanksgiving To Be Observed by Canyon Nov. 22

There will be one Thanksgiving in Texas this year, on Thursday, November 22nd.

Congress put an end to the confusion of two days set aside for Thanksgiving by passing a law which sets the fourth Thursday in November as Thanksgiving Day, regardless of the number of Thursdays in the month.

The News will carry Thanksgiving greetings from business firms in next week's issue and urges business firms to get their copy in early for this edition which will be published on Wednesday, as usual.

Stolen Bicycle Is Sought by Local Authorities

County authorities are on the look-out for a red Monarch Rocket bicycle which was stolen from Lee Roy Brown last Thursday between 2:30 and 3:30 p. m. at the high school building. Monday afternoon Lee Roy brought all means of identification possible to the sheriff's department.

The rear tail light on the fender of the bicycle is broken. The bike has a spring type fork and there are hail marks on the right side. Headlight of the bike has been removed and the tires are of the heavy duty type.

There was no definite lead as to the whereabouts of the bicycle Monday afternoon. The sheriff's department is checking from every angle and with the description given by the sad youngster who lost the bike, good results may occur in the near future.

Sunday Was Busy Day for American Legion

The Canyon chapter of the American Legion had a busy day Sunday. Starting with a breakfast at 8 o'clock in which all ex-service men and their families were invited, activities extended through the 2:30 p. m. Gold Star Mothers' luncheon.

The 2:30 luncheon had Gold Star Mothers as special guests. They were honored and entertained in a dignified manner. Gold Star Mothers were also given paid up dues for 1952. The High School Glee Club at the College gave readings in unison which were followed by the 23rd Psalm. Songs were rendered by six boys from the Air Corps. The Air Corps also furnished buglers to sound taps. After the program was over the Air Corps boys led group singing.

Stork Specials

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Neil Cooper are the parents of a baby daughter born November 1. The baby has been named Patricia Ann.

According to a telegram received Monday by J. L. Duflot, a daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Kendrick at Toledo, Ohio, Sunday. The young mother will be remembered as the former Marrie Lib Duflot. The couple has three sons.

Funeral for J. E. Barnhill Held at Turkey Tuesday

J. E. Barnhill, 66, died Monday night at his home in Turkey following an illness of several months.

The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon in the Church of Christ in Turkey, conducted by the minister, Alva Johnson.

Mr. Barnhill was the father of Frank Barnhill, resident of Canyon for several years, and co-owner of The Pharmacy and Buffalo Drug.

Survivors are the widow; five sons, Harry, Gary, John, Jack Barnhill, all of Turkey, and Frank of Canyon; one daughter, Mrs. Jeanette Case of Turkey.

Mable A. Graham Honored at Baylor

Miss Mable Anne Graham of Canyon, a junior student at Baylor University, Waco, is among the 21 new members recently initiated into Kappa Delta Pi, a national honorary education fraternity on the campus.

Miss Graham is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Graham of Happy. She is an education and Spanish major at the university and also a member of the First Families of Baylor Club. This club is composed of students whose parents or grandparents attended the Baptist school.

Mable Anne is a member of the Baptist Student Union and the Panhandle Club. Before entering Baylor she was graduated from Canyon High School.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Lockey of Palestine, Dr. and Mrs. Neil Pickett and children of the Air Force Base in Amarillo were Sunday guests of Mrs. R. P. Jarrett and Al Williams.

Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Stroud, Jimmie and Jed; and Mrs. A. W. Gill of Miami, visited Sunday in the W. H. Stroud home.

Rural Telephone Exchange Makes More Progress

Almost 100 rural folks turned out for the Mid-Plains Rural Telephone Cooperative, meeting in the courthouse Monday night. Principal figures of the meeting were M. I. McGehee, Burrell Evans and General Manager Woodall.

The weather was not so good, but Mr. Woodall exclaimed that their meetings were always hampered by rather bad weather.

Evans, legal advisor for the organization, told of his trip to Washington. This particular telephone exchange is to operate in Swisher and Randall counties. Evans explained that special effort is being made to meet every R. E. A. requirement and that the money for the project should be appropriated at any time. The trip to Washington was also instrumental in getting the rates lowered.

At the present time subscribers are needed. Seven new applications were taken Monday night. The Chamber of Commerce agreed to help with the applications. So, if you want to make an application for one of these telephones, visit the office of the Chamber of Commerce, or see Clark Jarnagin for application blank and details.

No more than eight people will be put on a party line and it is important that you get signed up before the line comes by your farm if you want a telephone. The modern dial system will be used throughout the exchange and toll calls will be the same as toll calls on the Bell line.

The present loan from the government is $610,000, but that figure can reach a maximum peak of $2,500,000.

Windbreak Trees Available Now

Now is the time to get windbreak trees, available from Texas Forest Service at Alto. The blank for ordering the trees and all desired information is available at the office of the county agent or the home demonstration agent. There are five recommended varieties for this part of the country and the price is $1.00 per hundred.

The five recommended varieties of trees for this section are: Parnifolia elm, red cedar, russian mulberry, thornless honey locust and chinese elm.

Water Works Way Into Britain Studio Floor Furnace

Saturday morning when Pat Britain arrived at his studio for work, the building was cold. He turned up the thermostat, but nothing happened, so he looked down into the floor furnace and was shocked at seeing it filled about half-full of water. He called a crew of men to pump out the water, but the motor-driven pump didn't work as expected and by Saturday night there was still water in the floor furnace.

Monday the entire floor furnace was lifted out. A thorough check was made to see where the water had come from. This led to the shocking discovery that one of the tanks used by Pat in his dark room had not been connected to the sewer. Apparently this happened in 1948, Pat related.

This was the date he had the building remodeled and put a new foundation beneath it. There is still some mystery about what happened to the plumbing installations. Two pipes had been connected to the sewer while the other had been turned back under the house for five or six feet.

The water had saturated the ground beneath the studio to the extent that there is mud several feet deep. When the ground could no longer soak up the water, it drained into the floor furnace. This led to the discovery.

Workmen felt sure Monday afternoon that the furnace could be repaired. For a while it looked as if a new furnace would have to be purchased because of the damage created by the water.

Investigation Seeks Solution to Robbery

The knotty problem of a robbery that weaved its way in and out of Randall County was left in a tangled mess at the door of the Sheriff Sunday. An investigation was conducted in an attempt to clear up the foggy issue.

The victim, N. R. Darby of Floydada, reported that he was robbed of $75 by a couple of drinking companions. Sheriff Cantrell said that only "vague" descriptions of the assailants were furnished by the victim.

Darby said that he met the men in a Northeast 8th Street tavern. He said the strong arm robbery occurred about two miles south of Pullman Switch.

Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Darby and girls, Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Miller of Borger visited in the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Mack Rogers and Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Boyce Sunday.

EDITORIAL COMMENTS

Eisenhower Returns To His Job With No Political Announcement

The American people learned nothing politically from the visit of General Eisenhower.

However his visit was a field day for the newspaper columnists and radio commentators who like to guess at all that is going on, and what the meaning of various events may be.

One columnist went so far as to say definitely that President Truman had offered to withdraw in favor of Eisenhower if the General would run on the Democratic ticket. This offer was rejected, according to this writer. Both the President and the General denied the statement.

As the matter stands, and as we view the situation, Eisenhower did the wise thing in refusing to discuss politics. If he had announced his intention to run for President on either ticket, he would have been open to all kinds of demands and offers from well wishing people.

Take the case of Senator Taft as an example. Taft is already going around the country making promises, and discussing issues which will not suit a lot of people. He is getting himself embroiled in political fueds which will mean the loss of votes come next November.

Eleven months is too long for a candidate to be in any campaign. Taft will discover this mistake before many moons.

In the meanwhile Eisenhower is going about his business, trying to save Western Europe from the results of their own folly.

Probably the real reason back of the rejection of Eisenhower of the President's offer, if such an offer was made, is the fact that the General refuses to be linked with the greed, graft and corruption which prevails in the Truman administration.

If the General had accepted the offer, he would have placed his stamp of approval on the whole Truman administration. If he is politically inclined, Eisenhower would stay with a clean slate in the Republican camp, and would enlist the support of a lot of Independent Democrats who are placing the welfare of the nation above party loyalty.

Confusion Continues With No Definite Foreign Policy

We are told that the commies thrive on the confusion which exists in this country.

We are told by intelligent travelers that America is in no danger of invasion from the Reds because of the long distance from Moscow and the lack of preparedness on the part of Russia.

On the other hand the administration keeps hammering on the idea that we must spend more money or be sunk by the Reds.

One day we are told by Washington that the Korean war is just a little affair in which we could win in a hurry if we wanted to, while the next day we are told that we are being whipped by a superior force of Reds.

The confusion will last until Washington decides what kind of a public policy we must have in order to continue to live. We are living without a foreign policy.

We Are Definitely Fed Up With These Peace Talks

We are getting pretty fed up with these truce talks with the Reds in Korea. Frankly they mean not a single thing.

A speaker in Canyon last week stated that the Reds set a trap in Korea for us and we stepped into it. Perhaps this is true. It has been a very, very costly trap, both in lives and in money.

We are told that Korea is the testing ground for Red military strength. Again, we say that if this is true, it is not a very pleasant spectacle to see our armies pushed and mauled over that unhappy country.

So far as believing the Reds is concerned, the strength of the Reds is in the lies which we have been forced to swallow.

What, No New Cars for Those Who Want the Latest Designs?

Those fellows who are in the habit of running out to pick up the first new models of cars will be shocked to hear that OPS has determined that the nation will be saved millions of dollars by rejecting the idea of new car models in 1952.

For those of us who are perfectly well satisfied with driving old cars, the order comes as no shock. We shall get along beautifully well, even though the new shine of the old car is pretty well battered up.

It's funny how some people denounce financial aid to the British and, at the same time, denounce our failure to give more dollars to Chiang Kai-shek.

It's some years off but we have a loaded shotgun waiting for the photographer who tries to photograph "us" on our fiftieth wedding anniversary.

The fuzzy caterpillars, according to some naturalists,forecast a mild winter. You can take this or leave it.

With the end of the football season we assume some institutions of learning will revert to their original aims.

The trouble with too many systems and schemes is that they omit an important ingredient, hard work.

Four-fifths of the people of the world wouldn't know a democratic government if they saw one.

If you believe in the freedoms of civilization you must see that they belong to the other fellow.

National Dog Week should be celebrated during dog days whenever they happen to occur.

One thing can be said about Communist policies ---- they are making the U. S. spend money.

The graft in government will stop as soon as we manage to stop the graft in business.

A successful politician rarely offends an organized group during an election year.

Election Shows That Voters Are Opposed to Greed and Graft

The people have spoken and graft has been defeated.

One thing pleased us in the elections of last week: Both the corrupt Democrats as well as the corrupt Republicans were defeated.

We have always been of the opinion that a crooked Democrat is no better and certainly no worse than a crooked Republican. If either survives the approval of the voters, it is a sorry, sad day for the people who elect them to office.

Just the other day a citizen was discussing the sorry bunch of constitutional amendments which were submitted by the last legislature. It was the opinion of an intelligent listener that the amendments were no stronger and certainly no better than the men who wrote them. The legislators were elected by the people of Texas. If there is anyone to blame, it is the voters themselves, who elect our office holders.

The greatest need of this nation is for clean government. Russia is beating us over the heads with every case of corruption that has been disclosed. The face of every American should be red with shame as we contemplate what has happened and what is happening in our federal government.

The voters will have other chances to clean house. We are still wondering if the sweep of indignation against corruption in high places will hold forth in 1952, or will the Republicans as well as the Democrats simply go to the polls, hold their noses and vote for corruption rather than for honest, capable public officials.

We shall see what we shall see.

Homer Garrison Relents and Now Seeks Help for Program

Remember Homer Garrison's blast at The Canyon News a few weeks ago? In that blast he took this country weekly to task for urging car drivers to protect themselves by carrying liability insurance.

Garrison got all hot and bothered. No provision of the law requires that any car owner shall carry insurance. With this we agree, but at the same time we insist that it is only common sense to carry liability insurance for the protection of the car owner as well as protection of those whom they might kill or injure while driving.

The law is very clear that no one is required to carry insurance, and so long as they have no wrecks they will get by without insurance. But in case of an accident, they will have to put up $15,000 property guaranty that they are able to pay for damages done while driving.

Homer Garrison now urges insurance agencies to work for full coverage against accidents. The facts are that insurance is the only sensible way to protect yourself in case of accidents. And let it be remembered, no one knows when he will hit some car on the highway or be hit by a careless driver.

Of course the smart drivers will say that they do not need insurance since they have never had an accident, or intend to have an accident.

We hope for the best.

Gamblers Are Lawbreakers, Same as Murderers, Robbers

Congress had a thought and passed a bill which taxed all gamblers $50 per year.

The results: No cash; no takers; no gamblers, in the open. Those who have been gamblers have ignored the new law. The idea is that people will gamble regardless of laws or no laws. If they cannot gamble openly, they will do it under cover. The gamblers will operate under cover, with no cash coming into Uncle Sam's treasury.

We are rather pleased that the gamblers are ignoring the law. When gambling is approved by issuing licenses, Uncle Sam places a stamp of approval on the guys who fleece the public. Without this tax, the gambler is a lawbreaker, the same as the fellow who shoots his neighbor or robs the bank. Approval of crime is one of the great weaknesses of this nation.

Churchill Tells England That No Bed of Roses Awaits

The thing that we like about Churchill is his frankness in dealing with the English people. During the war Churchill did not hold out roses when only thorns were pressing the British people.

The Laborites defeated Churchill by the simple method of promising and giving more than was good for the country.

Now that Churchill is back in power, he is promising nothing which his government cannot deliver.

He set the example of conservative spending by ordering the salaries of his cabinet reduced, taking the largest cut himself.

Have you heard of any one in America offering to reduce his own salary during these strenuous times?

It is one thing to support universal military training and another matter to prevent the development of a militaristic spirit in a democracy.

Having practically guaranteed the security of most of the world the U. S. will just have to have some fighting power.

By the time a man acquires the thankful spirit he is overwhelmed by the demands of the Christmas season.

Just because there is no great polio epidemic is no reason to forget the need for funds to fight this dread disease.

Have you ever listened to a person who has a hobby that he thinks you ought to know about?

Speaking about fame, do you know who was President of the U. S. fifty years ago?

Life is no more puzzling to man than death but it has greater popular support.

You can always borrow all the money you want when you don't want any.

The years must be getting longer ---- 1952 will have an extra day.

Theft Case Ends In $25.00 Fine Paid by Accused

A fine of $25.00 was paid by a Tulia man last Thursday afternoon in County Judge Burney Slack's court. The charge was for taking $17.00 from the cash register of Earl's Super Service Station, 1704 Canyon Highway, Monday evening about 8 o'clock.

Earl Blankenship, owner of the station, said a man purchased gasoline there and paid for it with a payroll check. The owner said that he left and an attendant remained with the customer. The attendant said he was called out and on his return heard the cash register bell. When he got inside he asked the man for the money and was given $10.00. That night, when checked, the cash register came up $17.00 short.

The accused was arrested at his home in Tulia by Charley Oates, county deputy.

Talleyrand, the French diplomat, said, "There is one person who is wiser than Anybody and that is Everybody."

Clever remarks sometimes lose their savor because of changing customs. For instance, the wisecrack of an editor after General Hancock, while running for President, said that the tarriff was "a local issue." The editor commented, "General Hancock ought to return to the original goose the quill which wrote that statement."

But the young generation may not know that, 75 years ago, men wrote with goose-quill pens.

The basis of a great success is usually an idea; and, often, a simple idea—simple, that is, when we look at it after someone has thought it up.

An Irish immigrant was making a living by selling Bibles at $1 each. This was, of course, a much greater amount than now. A poverty-stricken woman told the young salesman, "I can't pay you $1 but I can give you a dime and you can come back for the rest."

The salesman tried to "sell" his employer on the plan but was turned down. So he resigned and started his own business based on that idea. And that was the beginning of the installment selling of books.

The young man was P. F. Collier, later the founder of Collier's Weekly. No telling how many books his company sold on the installment plan — usually sets. Millions of homes had a shelf of Mark Twain's works and Charles Dickens' works. The pleasure and inspiration these volumes gave can not be estimated.

I remember, as a boy, in my own home there was a green-covered set of Dickens and it was from those pages that I became acquainted with the writings of that marvelous man.

Faith is a knowledge of the benevolence of God toward us, and a certain persuasion of His veracity. — John Calvin.

No man has power to let another prescribe his faith. Faith is not faith without believing. — Thomas Jefferson.

Wells Speaks To Lions Club on Russian Menace

"Infiltration, Education, Subversive Activities and Revolt" are the four prongs of the method planned by Russia for world domination, said Charles Wells in his speech to the Lions last week.

Wells went on to explain that we, as a nation, stand in danger of losing our freedom, but it is not the kind of danger that most people fear.

The popular fear of today is that Russia will bomb our cities and invade the country, the speaker pointed out. Nothing is farther from the actual facts of the case.

Wells explained why Russia could not invade. The Russian navy is small and weak. It would have to hold a corridor 3,000 miles long and 50 miles wide across the Atlantic which is guarded by our navy, the strongest in the world.

He went on to explain why Russia would never bomb by air. It would be a hit-and-run affair and he explained that Russia realizes that for every atomic bomb she dropped over here, we could drop 10 over there. Russia is not that stupid, he explained.

The speaker stated that what Russia is waiting for is the day when we inflate our economy to the breaking point. When we have bankrupted our economy and there are many unemployed people, the U. S. will provide fertile ground for a revolution from within, that is where our danger lies, Wells pointed out.

Our grandfathers who settled the plains faced acute danger from Indian depredations, Wells said. They met this danger coolly and intelligently. These methods finally brought the present civilization to the plains. Their danger was just as great at that time as ours is today. They met the danger with cool, intelligent reasoning, while we allow ourselves to be swayed by vote-seeking politicians, Wells declared.

In a final word the speaker said we should look beyond politics and see the real danger of the situation. Better qualified leaders, he explained, are needed to strengthen our position, and make us safe from the red menace.

The Lions also welcomed four visitors: Norman Cleavinger, C. A. Booker, Murry Boston, and Charles Donnell.

W. S. C. S. HELD REGULAR MEETING NOVEMBER 6

Muse-Black Vows Read Wednesday

The marriage of Naomi Black, daughter of Mrs. Lona Black of Woodsfield, Ohio, and Sherrard Muse was solemnized Wednesday in the First Methodist Church of Albany, Texas. The pastor, The Rev. E. L. Yeats, read the single ring ceremony at 3:30 in the afternoon. Only immediate members of the families of the couple were present.

The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. W. E. Muse and the late W. E. Muse.

The bride wore an afternoon dress of mauve satin designed with short sleeves, high neck, close-fitted bodice trimmed with pearls, and a circular skirt. Her hat was of mauve satin matching dress and she wore mauve suede gloves. Her shoes and bag were black. She wore an orchid corsage.

Mrs. Harold Black, sister-in-law of the bride, wore a charcoal gray crepe dress with black accessories and a corsage of pink camellias.

Mrs. Muse, mother of the bridegroom, wore a gray print crepe dress, black accessories and white carnation corsage.

Sulon and Louan Black, little nieces of the bride, who stood up with her, wore rose and aqua chambray dresses and corsages of pink carnations.

Mrs. E. L. Yeats played the traditional wedding march for the entrance of the wedding party and also during the ceremony. During the prayer, she played "Take Time To Be Holy."

Mrs. Muse was a nurse at Neblett Hospital for two years in Canyon.

On their return from a short wedding trip to Corpus Christi, they will live in the Mrs. C. B. Mauldin apartment.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank our friends for the many flowers, cards and visitors that Mrs. Stroud received while in hospital. Also the doctors and nurses for their kind service and attention. We also wish to thank Captain Buckingham of 868 Air Force Detachment at West Texas State and the six airmen officers for their blood.

Vandals Invade West Texas State College Campus

There is still a great deal of mystery surrounding the six broken windows at Palo Duro Hall Monday night. According to reports, there were two trips made past the dormitory at which time rocks were thrown.

It is believed that four boys were involved in the rockthrowing, window breaking affair. It was also reported that two of the boys were from Canyon and two from Amarillo. There is a possibility that one of two of them are former West Texas State College students, but at this point no one seems to know. No present student is suspected.

According to authorities there was an Amarillo car involved. The license number was taken and a pick-up order is reportedly out on it. The vague and hazy bits of descriptions of the boys and car appear to be a slim lead for officers to work on.

About the only thing that anyone seems to know definitely is that six windows were broken out of Palo Duro Hall at West Texas State College Monday night.

Cpl. Kenneth Hillier visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hillier over the week-end. He is stationed at Camp Carson, Colo., but is to be transferred to Wisconsin.

Speakers See No Danger War With Russia Immediately

A look was taken at United Nations by the Canyon Rotary Club Tuesday. Dr. James Russell was in charge of the program and introduced Silas Hart and Rev. Winston Wilbanks who discussed the possibilities of war with Russia.

Mr. Hart was positive in his belief that there was no immediate danger of war. The United States has never been an aggressor nation. Russia does not have enough material or men to carry on a war. The situations in Iran and Suez are not as critical to Mr. Hart as they are to many people. The commies are not making as much progress in China as they had hoped for. Russia has been trying to get an outlet to the seas for many years, and until she succeeds, she can cause no trouble.

Mr. Wilbanks believes the same way—that there is no immediate danger of war with Russia. The Bible teaches that "With God all things are possible." Some incident, yet unforseen, could start a war, but Mr. Wilbanks does not believe this to be probable.

He outlined four points which must be observed as basic with the United Nations: 1. Strength of character; 2. courage; 3. love; 4. purpose.

Mr. Russell closed the program by calling upon all citizens to carry out their obligations as good citizens, through active support of the government, and through active participation in the affairs of government.

Visitors were: N. E. Milburn of Hereford; U. N. Olver, Marnel Edquist, W. W. Rusk, Jowe C. Rogers, A. J. Foley, Swede Tolzien, Horace Griggs, E. R. Blair, Jr., John McCarty, all of Amarillo.

Uenta Davenport, June Roberts and Joan Hill spent Sunday in Amarillo.

Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Lowe from Gruver visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Combs Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Adcock spent the week-end in the parental C. A. Pruitt home.

The Whole World Contributes To the Making of Perfumes

Did you know that the fragrance industry calls on the art and science of the entire world in its ever constant search to develop the finest in perfume products? Raw materials are gathered from every continent for the perfume artists to create the exquisite scents which are available to all of us.

From France come many of the beautiful flower oils which form such an important part of perfumes. In the fields of Grasse, world-renowned perfume flower center, grow such aromatic blossoms as jasmin, tuberose, lavender, nimosa and rose (the famous French Rose is called rose de mai). Bulgaria is famous for its attar of rose. Yugoslavia contributes oak moss, Italy gives bergamot. In Asia? Musk comes from Tibet and cassia (cinnamon bark) from China, while India supplies sandalwood. Civet is taken from the famous cat of that name in Ethiopia, ylang ylang grows in Madagascar, geranium in the Bourbon Islands. Australia gives us eucalyptus and South America contributes bois de rose (rosewood) and the tonka bean. Central America brings us lemon grass and Balsam Peru. Our own United States supplies cedarwood oil and peppermint and citrus oils. From Canada comes castor (from the beaver) and hemlock. These are just a few of the hundreds of ingredients which are used in the making of perfume

And how does the perfumer go about concocting the exquisite scents which are on the market today? It is a complex and highly scientific method. Before the actual perfumer—or "nose" as he is called in the perfume industry—starts his artistic blending, he must have a thorough knowledge of the thousands of aromatic substances available.

Some of these ingredients are essential oils, gathered from flowers and leaves and roots. Others are tinctures from such products as civet and musk and ambergris. Various methods are used in obtaining the essential oils for the perfumers' use . . . distillation, "extraction," maceration, enfleurage. Each method influences the scent of the oil. The climatic conditions under which the flowers have grown give an idividual character to the final product. For instance, the Bulgarian rose is distilled, while oils from the rose de mai of France are obtained by extraction, or enfleurage. Although all have a rose smell, each has its own characteristic note.

Small City Policemen Ride More Than Big Town Brothers

Shiny-bottomed blue serge trousers are replacing worn shoe soles as the mark of a city policeman.

According to the International City Managers' Association, more cities are motorizing some or all of their police patrols. Statistics gathered for the 1951 Municipal Year Book show that late in 1950 a total of 1,122 cities over 10,000 population reported more than 16,000 cars and motorcycles in use for patrol duty.

In relation to the total number of policemen, smaller cities are more highly motorized than their larger counterparts, the Association pointed out. For example, in the big cities—those over 500,000 population—there are only six squad cars per 100 policemen, while in cities the size of Louisville and Denver —250,000 to 500,000 population— there are 10 cars for every 100 police employees. In the smaller cities of from 10,000 to 25,000 population this ratio rises to 14 cars per 100 employees.

At least 34 cities now do all of their patrol work in motor vehicles rather than using foot patrols. No city reported using only foot patrols. The most common patrol methods remain the combination foot and motorized shifts.

A total of 150 cities reported to the Year Book that they use one-man cars exclusively for police patrol work. An additional 624 cities reported using one-man patrols to some extent. More than 250 of these cities use the one-man patrols on day shifts only. One-man cars have the advantage of allowing cities to double patrols without increasing personnel, the Association pointed out.

Wierd Specimens

Specimens of some of the world's weirdest creatures, the "flying dragons" of Malaya, have been added to the Smithsonian Institution reptile collections. They were collected by Maj. Robert Traub and Lieut. Vernon Tipton of the U. S. Army Medical Center in connection with a survey of Malayan animals possibly concerned in the spread of tropical diseases. The "flying dragons" are lizards. They have several greatly prolonged ribs to which are attached membranous sheets of skin. When these are spread out they enable the creatures to glide considerable distances from branch to branch of their forest habitat. They actually serve as parachutes, but they look very much like wings. They flash wil colors that rival those of tropical butterfly wings when the lizards are in flight. usually they are a brilliant orange with bands of black. The creatures also have brilliant-colored throat appendages, bright orange in the male and bright blue in the female. These lizards have slender bodies from a few inches to a foot long, and slender tails. In gliding, such a creature appears mostly "wings."

Chop Pooey

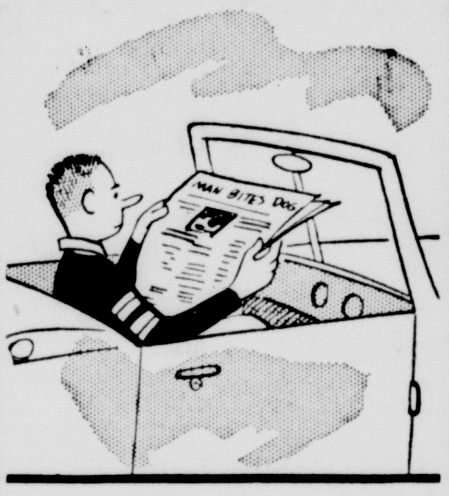
The recent arrival from China was trying desperately to catch a train and his patient oriental nature was being put to a test because the porter couldn't locate his baggage. Wung Sung became very upset and finally, just as the train was about to depart and his bags were still unlocated, he hammered on the counter and exploded in these words:

"Pretty darn seldom where my bag go. She no fly. You no more fit to run station than Pete's sake. That's all, I hope!'

Poor Soul

A mountainer, on his first visit to a city of any size, was fascinated by the asphalt streets. Scraping his feet on the hard surface, he remarked to his boy: "Well, I can't blame 'em for building a town here. The ground's too darned hard to plow anyhow."

SOME ENDURANCE!



A gentle old Quaker, driving along a lane between Newington and Hornsey, encountered a young man driving from the opposite direction. There was not room enough for them to pass each other unless one of them would back his car.

"I think," called out the Quaker in a fatherly tone, "thou should make way for me, for I am older than thou art."

"I'll not budge an inch," the young man angrily replied. Then he pulled out a newspaper and began to read as he sat in his car.

The Quaker leaned back comfortably in his seat and let his eyes wander contentedly over the peaceful rural scene. "Friend," he called out at length, "when thou has read that paper I should be glad if thou wouldst lend it to me."

The young man gave up the contest.

Aim to Please

Mistress of the House: "Oh, how perfectly dreadful! You've put the bathroom paper in the bedroom."

Paperhanger: "Now, ma'am, don't you worry. We'll have that bathtub hooked up in there before you know it."

GETTING THE BIRD

A New Yorker was driving through a barren wilderness in West Texas when a fancy bird skittled past the car. "What kind of fowl do you call that?" he asked. The driver answered proudly, "That's a bird of paradise." "Hm-m-m," mused the New Yorker, "Kind of far from home, isn't he?"

Tragic Song

An Arkansas sheep ranchman was sold on the fact that music would cause his sheep to grow longer and better wool. He purchased an automatic changer phonograph and allowed it to play all the afternoon in the pasture where his sheep were grazing. One night he found his favorite buck sheep lying dead. He investigated and found that the last record played was one that Sinatra sang. "There'll Never Be Another You."

SHE SPILLED THEM

Visiting a parishioner's home for Sunday dinner, the minister placed some green beans on his plate. Intently watching, the little girl of the home exclaimed, "See, Daddy, he took some beans. You said he didn't know beans."

DIFFICULT CHOICE

Old Batch Stafford, the thrifty mountaineer, had long been dividing his attentions between skinny Elviry and buxom Matilda, the village spinsters. One day a tipsy town loafer said: "When are you going to make your mind up twixt them two gals, Batch?"

"Cain't say," replied the thrifty bachelor. "Matilda's bigger and stouter and can do more work. Still, on the other hand, it only takes three yards of calico to make Elviry a dress."

Eagles Capture 9 to 6 Victory from Hereford Whitefaces Friday Night

The Hereford Whiteface football squad concentrated on smothering Red Ratliff Friday night and lit a fire under Johnny Miller. It was Miller's long runs around the ends and his powerful off-tackle smashes that rolled up yardage for the Eagles.

Early in the first quarter Hereford moved the ball down near the Canyon goal line. They lost it on downs and the Eagles took over. Ratliff took the ball and carried it through a vertible sea of would-be-tacklers for a distance of 12 yards to get the Eagles out of danger. The Hereford line was solid and the Eagles lost the ball on downs.

Bill Kelly carried the ball twice for a total of 35 yards and a Hereford touchdown. The conversion was no good and the score stood at 6-0, Eagles trailing.

Twice Canyon was on the brink of scoring in the first half. Once they lost the ball on downs and the second time the half-time whistle ended their threat to the Hereford score.

During the second quarter of play the Eagles lost the ball to Hereford when they had less than one yard to go for a touchdown. The Hereford team was in dangerous territory so they decided to kick. The kicker stepped out of the end zone and a 2 point safety score was tallied up for the Eagles.

The winning touchdown came late in the final quarter of play. Ratliff smashed over for the TD, and true-toed the conversion kick for the extra point.

The final score was 9 to 6, with the Eagles out front.

During the final minutes of play, with the Eagles leading by 3 points and the seconds ticking off dangerously fast, Hereford took to the air. Out of the 7 passes they threw in the final quarter 5 were incomplete and 2 were intercepted.

Longest run of the game was made early in the second quarter when Red Ratliff lugged the pigskin 35 yards for the Eagles. Johnny Miller took the ball next for a 15-yard gain. It was also in the second period of play that Kelly faded back for a pass and was smeared 20 yards behind the line of scrimmage by a host of Eagles.

During the third quarter Hereford made a touchdown that was recalled and they were penalized for being offsides.

During the last half of the game the granite-like line of Hereford was shattered by the power of such players as Arlen Ruthart, A. C. Wimberly, Dwain Currie, Dick Dowdy, Pete Donnell, Lynn Williams and Tommy Middleton.

The Eagles made 15 first downs to 10 for the Hereford squad. Hereford made 149 yards rushing to the Eagles' 263. The Eagles fumbled the ball 6 times and recovered it twice while Hereford fumbled twice and lost the ball both times.

In addition to a superior football game, fans were delighted by the halftime activities of both the Canyon and Hereford bands.

Next week the Eagles journey down to Floydada for their final game of the season.

SELECTIVE SERVICE

Since selective service resumed operation last September, it has been asked for a total of 712,480 men, including the calls for October and November, 1951. The Marine Corps resorted to the draft August for the first times since a brief period during World War II. Its requests for draftees through November total 26,480 men. Neither the Navy nor the Air Force has asked for draftees since the outbreak of the war in Korea and the raising of the military manpower goal to about 3,500,000 men.

DRAFT CALL

The Defense Department has raised its October draft call from 41,000 to 44,600 men, with the additional 3,600 men going to the Marine Corps, which has asked for 8 600 draftees in October. The remaining 36,000 will go into the Army. The Department also asked for 33,700 draftees in November, of which the Army will get 29,000 and the Marine Corps 4,700.

RUBBER

The United States has stockpiled less than one-fifth of its goal of natural rubber during 1950-51, according to a Senate Armed Services subcommittee report, which was the third in a series — all critical — of the way the Government is handling its rubber program. It said some progress had been made, but not enough.

Statehouse

by HUGH WILLIAMSON

A hundred years ago, an army general thought that there would not be, by this time — and perhaps never — any white settlements west of Young County.

The officer was General William Goldsmith Belknap, who was stationed at Fort Smith, Arkansas, when he received an order on April 1, 1851, instructing him to "make an examination of the country on the western border of Texas" and select suitable sites for military posts.

Although he was severely ill, the general rode by day and slept on the ground at night until he came to a spot northwest of present-day Graham and found a site which he recommended.

"This is the most western point," he reported in the Fall of 1851, "that a fort can be established where timber and other material necessary in the construction of barracks can be found; and west of which, on account of the scarcity of timber and water, it is not probable that white settlements will be made for a century to come, if ever."

Shortly after making that statement General Belknap died — in November of 1851, just a hundred years ago — while trying to reach Fort Washita in the Indian Territory.

The general was a distinguished soldier of his time and earned a great many commendations and decorations for gallant and distinguished services. Thus it was that the fort whose site he established was named for him.

Fort Belknap was maintained as an outpost against the Indians until 1867, except during the War for Southern Independence. It was then dormant and half forgotten until 1936, when it was largely restored as a part of the Centennial program.

The Fort Belknap Society organized a celebration in commemoration of the 100th anniversary of the establishment. Governor Allan Shivers appeared as speaker for the occasion.

"The fact that William Belknap was a poor prophet did not deter him from the fulfillment of his duty," the governor commented. "His inability to visualize the growth and progress that would come in the wake of the United States cavalry did not keep him from carrying out his orders. His assignment was to locate a fort in the most advantageous position, and that is what he did — as conscientiously, as industriously, and as intelligently as he could."

Vision is vital, for without vision the people perish, the governor observed; and leadership is essential to capitalize upon that vision, "but when all is said and done, the great load of the world's work is carried on the shoulders of the William Belknaps, without whose sacrifice and devotion to duty the vision itself would perish."

Fort Belknap was one of a string of garrisons stretching from the Red River to the Rio Grande, including Fort McIntosh, Fort Clark, Fort McKavett, Fort Phantom Hill and Fort Griffin. They gave protection against the Indians.

What to do with the Indians became a problem, because the United States had no public land in this State, but in 1852 the Legislature set aside two reservations, one near Fort Belknap for Tonkawas, Delewares, and Caddoes; and another, also in present Young County, for Comanches.

For a time these reservations were maintained, but when conflict developed between the Indians and the settlers, the Red Men were moved northward across the Red River.

Presidents Evans of San Marcos and Whitley of Commerce were here conferring with President J. A. Hill in order to present uniform requests for appropriations from the next session of the legislature. The three presidents went to Plainview to meet Judge A. B. Martin, member of the Board of Regents.

Senator Tom Connally, of Texas, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, is in a mood to join any Southern revolt against Mr. Truman's leadership. The Senator thinks that the President was needling him when he named General Clark as Ambassador to the Vatican. Clark is persona non grata in Texas.

Governor James Byrnes, of South Carolina, leading the Southern Democrats who oppose renomination of President Truman, as well as the other leaders of this move, is not to modify plans as a result of signs that the President intends to retire. Southern political leaders are prepared to demand more say in party affairs regardless of the Democratic nominee.

Senator Robert Taft, candidate for the Republican nomination, intends a more intensive and more personalized campaign if nominated than Mr. Truman's whistle-stop campaign of 1948. The Senator would like to drive his own small car and make stops at as many industrial plants as possible.

Mr. Truman is not particularly comfortable in the company of Britain's Churchill. The President likes to think and talk in rather simple terms and is not carried away by the big, broad ideas that are meat for Churchill. A meeting of minds may not be as simple as the British expect.

The President himself thought up the idea of sending Gen. Mark Clark as a U. S. Ambassador to the Vatican. Mr. Truman figured that he could put the Republicans in a political hole by reviving a religious issue that would be perking in election year 1952.

The next scandal investigation, cooking quietly, is to involve the disposition of alien property. Politicians have been interested in immensely valuable properties that fell to the Government as a result of World War II. Alien property generated some of the biggest scandals of the Harding regime.

WARREN'S

Here is some information on the appropriations passed in the First Session of the 82nd Congress, which I think will be of interest to you. I did not vote for all of the appropriations bills that passed the House, and I voted in Committee to cut many of the appropriations that finally did pass the House. I tried to cast a solvent vote; that is, I voted for appropriations that I felt absolutely necessary in the interest of this country's defense and for necessary domestic expenditures. I did not feel that additional taxes should be voted, and therefore tried to keep expenditures within the amount of money that would be collected in taxes without increasing the tax burden. I especially call your attention to the percentage of expenditures earmarked for defense purposes:

Appropriations passed in the first session of the 82nd Congress approached those provided in the peak years of World War II. In the session just ended Congress voted $91,626,541,716 in supplemental appropriations for the fiscal year 1951 and in regular and supplemental appropriations for the fiscal year 1952. In addition to this amount, $6,116,000,000 was provided in the form of permanent allotments which are made automatically every year to cover such payments as interest on the national debt and other recurring statutory items. This $91.6 billion represents an eleven percent increase over the $82.0 billion provided by the preceding session of Congress for fiscal 1951. On a per capita basis, the approved federal spending amounts to about $636 for every man, woman and child in the country. The final amount of money voted was about $4.4 billion less than the original amount requested by the Administration.

For such other activities as veterans' services $4.1 billion was provided, and $1.6 billion will be available to continue atomic energy programs.

Appropriations for non-defense took a much smaller share or 10.7 percent of the total federal spending provided. The amount voted for domestic programs amounted to $9,785,086,341, and was about one billion dollars less than that requested by the Executive. Large amounts were appropriated for the following public works programs: $597 million for flood control, $363 million for grants to states for public roads, and $71 million for public power construction work. Relief payments to states will continue to be large with $1.1 billion going for such purposes. Public health programs will have about $359 million to spend with greater opportunity for research in heart disease and cancer. Congress has provided $803 million for such agricultural programs as aid to farm operators, subsidization of soil building, conservation practices and the school lunch program. The federal government will continue to encourage education with $141 million available to promote the various programs.

While large sums have been appropriated for the fiscal year 1952, it is not expected that expenditures will rise to the same height. This is largely due to the fact that contracts for such items as planes, ships, tanks and guns may be let in 1952 for delivery in 1953, at which time payment will be made. The Budget Bureau has estimated that about $67 billion will be spent by the Government in the fiscal year which ends next June.

HUBERT MATHIEU

BETTER WAY

Mark Twain knew how to handle arrogance; some of the best examples of his wit are those concerning someone who needed slapping down.

One such was a pompous, selfish, successful hypocrite. The gentleman interrupted Twain's description of a recent trip to Europe by commenting:

"I plan a trip abroad, too, Mr. Clemens ---- but I shall visit the Holy Land. I will climb to the top of the Mount of Olives and there read aloud the Ten Commandments."

"I believe you mean Mount Sinai----but I will give you a better suggestion: Stay right here at home and keep them!"

Gen. Dwight Eisenhower will have to give assurance that he will carry a strong attack to the Democrats on all issues, including foreign policy, before he can make big strides toward presidential nomination.

Norris E. Dodd, director, U. N. Food and Agricultural Organization: "There is real danger that in the planning of huge defense programs, agricultural requirements mey be overlooked."

J. Stanley Kenney, doctor, President, N. Y. State Medical Society: "There is real danger to the patient who wanders from one specialist to another, with no family doctor to guide him."

Charles F. Brannan, Secretary of Agriculture: "The defense program is just beginning to put the squeeze on industrial materials available for agriculture."

Buffs Relinquish Lease on Cellar In 50-20 Victory

A stampeding herd of buffalo walked off with a 1950 flavored victory over the New Mexico Aggies Saturday afternoon. It was their second victory of the year and their first conference game victory of the season.

Running rampant the Herd scored in every quarter as if in vengeance for the stinging defeats suffered earlier in the season. When the whistle blew to end the first half the Herd had a 36 to 13 lead. The third and fourth quarters of the game yielded a TD and a conversion each to give the Herd half-a-hundred points for the entire game.

John Poindexter kicked six extra points out of seven tries and recovered two Aggie fumbles. Bobby Clark pranced over the goal line with the pigskin for a couple of WT touchdowns and Bobby Lane scored 1 and tossed passes that were good for two more. The victory made the sixth consecutive for the Buffaloes over the New Mexico Aggies.

The Aggies were outclassed all the way and it was their aerial assault that resulted in the three touchdowns they managed to collect. The team was clicking better than usual, there just wasn't enough steam to hold back the Buffaloes.

One of the game's spectacular plays was a pass interception in the third period by Tommy Airhart. Then in the final period of play Lonnie Rice commandeered a 66-yard drive that was halted, momentarily, one yard short of pay dirt. It was pushed on over the next play.

The conference victory over the New Mexico Aggies pulled the thundering Herd out of the cellar. This week they're pawing the earth in preparation for the tilt with Texas Western to be played Nov. 24, in Amarillo Stadium.

THREE LITTLE WORDS

The art of pleasing social intercourse lies not so much in volubility of expression as in the right words to carry a delightful and subtly flattering impressino.

To make her guests feel welcome, the noted French woman Madame Recamier found that three words sufficed. When they arrived, she said, "At Last!" And when they prepared to depart, she simply said, "Already?"

WHOLESALE PRICES

Wholesale prices rose another 0.1 per cent during the second week of October, according to the Government's Bureau of Labor Statistics. On October 9, the index of wholesale prices reached 177.3 per cent of the 1926 average, 5.2 per cent above a year ago and 13 per cent higher than just before the Korean War began.

FAITH

At this time, during American Education Week, we take time out especially to think about the opportunities, freedoms, and liberties we enjoy. Whenever we do this we must realize from whence these privileges come.

One may ask, "Are we better to partake of these democratic ideas than other people in foreign parts of the world?" No, you and I were not singled out to live in this country and enjoy its principles. But because we have been so lucky, we can't accept it lightly, for our thankfulness should go to God who permitted us to live in a free democratic country.

Our life, our existence, and our principles depend and cometh from the Lord. He is able to do anything, whatever it be, if we, as individuals, have faith and trust in Him. A deep feeling of gratitude must come to each one of us when we realize that the United States, more than any other country, expresses and partakes of the privileges of being able to worship God in the way He would have us to.

We, in America, do not have to live in fear of being punished for exercising this liberty. This is our privilege, though I'm afraid we don't seriously realize what a great opportunity we have, for unless we put our faith, our trust, and our hope in God, we, as leaders of tomorrow, cannot exist as free citizens with the right to express our beliefs.

We can endure as a strong, united nation whose lead is directed by God only if we fully trust and believe in Him.

Initiation Service Highlight of FHA Week Thursday

Initiation of 40 new Future Homemakers of America members Thursday was the highlight of F. H. A. Week, November 4-10.

Betty Jean Graham, senior, gave the meaning and purposes of the organization.

Following the ceremony, a reception was given for the parents. After being shown through the homemaking department, they were served refreshments by the girls.

FHA initiates were: Juanelle Burrus, Bettie Burrus, Carolyn Brashier, Rachael Maynard, Helen Martin, Agnes Measamer, Helen Meyer, Ann Moore, Helen Parker, Ann Ford, Bobbie Pond, Martha Quillen, Wanda Sanders, Peggy Sheets, Alice Simms, Zora Lue Stone, La Donna Keller, Jo Beth Warren, Ada Glynn Wortham.

June Wortham, Gladys Leseberg, Ruth Ann Bolton, Nancy Adcock, Opal Campbell, Rita Jo Crow, Jean Davis, June Davis, Rea June Ford, Mona Beth Gillham, Bettie Glanton, La Nelle Gum, Tanya Hanks, Lucy Hollabaugh, Lila Mae Hunter, Ellen Johnson, Beverly Soll, Laura Kinney, Cara Sue Latham, and Alby Ann Kuehler.

F. H. A. Week was observed in a number of interesting ways. The organization attended services at the First Christian Church Sunday, prepared a special bulletin board Monday, wore chapter red and white ribbons Tuesday, took kodak pictures of members and activities Wednesday, held an initiation ceremony and reception Thursday, observed courtesy day Friday, and concluded the program of the week by each individual girl being of some special help to her family on Saturday.

"Toward new horizons," the motto of F. H. A., presents an infinite challenge to the members to learn to live better and achieve useful accomplishments in order that their lives and those of their families may be better tomorrow.

The emblem, 'a house supported by two hands,' symbolizing that the future homes of America are in the hands of its youth, appears on all club jewelry and papers.

The chapter maintains that helping to make happy homes, now and in the future, is the most important thing that youth can do for a democracy.

The governor of Texas issued a proclamation declaring State and National F. H. A. Week to occur at the same time. This occasion is set aside each year over the nation, and designated as a special time for interpreting the club program and purposes to the public in order for them to understand what the organization plans to accomplish.

Bull-e-Teens!

Do you remember what the Theremin is? Just think of an instrument which plays without being touched and has no reeds, keys, or valves! Even though it may seem impossible to imagine, it has been accomplished by electronics.

Paul Leonard, Massachusetts musician, presented the amazing Theremin in the first of the Southern School Assemblies given this year in Canyon High School.

Imitating the calls and songs of many various kinds of birds through the controlling of tones of the voice and combining trumpet playing in his performance, Paul Leonard presented an enjoyable and inspirational program. Illustrating how to play the mystery instrument, he called on Bertha Lindsey, senior, to play her version of a song.

ANNUAL ADS

"Would you be interested in buying an ad to go into the Canyon High School annual, Soaring Wings?" This is what the merchants of Canyon will be hearing this week when the annual staff solicits ads.

The money received from these ads will support the annual and without them there would be no annual.

BONFIRE PEP RALLY

Homecoming for the Canyon Eagles was celebrated by a large bonfire and pep rally Thursday night. The band played inspiring songs and the cheerleaders led the student body in stimulating yells and a snake dance around the fire. The school song and the "Eagles Fight Song" brought the program to an end.

American Education Unites for Freedom

"Unite for Freedom" is the theme for American Education Week, November 11-17.

The purpose is to interpret the schools to the public and to center their attention upon the splendid job which the schools are doing in developing worthy and competent American citizens.

The National Congress of Parents and Teachers, the United States Office of Education, the American Legion, and the National Education Association, jointly sponsor the observance of the week each year.

General theme for each day is:
Sunday, Nov. 11—Our Faith in God.
Monday, Nov. 12—Schools and Defense.
Tuesday, Nov. 13—Schools Keep Us Free.
Wednesday, Nov. 14—Education for the Long Pull.
Thursday, Nov. 15—Teaching the Fundamentals.
Friday, Nov. 16—Urgent School Needs.
Saturday, November 17—Home-School-Community.

Plan to make good use of American Education Week.

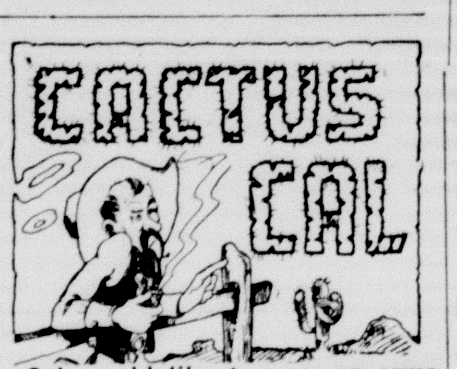
Tommy Middleton Is New Fire Chief

Tommy Middleton, junior, is new fire chief of Canyon High School. Assisting him as fire captains for each floor are Dick Dawdy, John Miller, George Dowlen, and Arlen Ruthart. They were elected at the first official meeting of the Student Faculty Congress November 5.

Duties of the fire chief are: (1) To make arrangements for drills; (2) See that fire drills run smoothly and accordingly; (3) to ring the fire bell.

Anna Lou Samuelson was voted secretary-treasurer and George Dowlen, parliamentarian and sergeant-at-arms.

Members of the council decided to act as welcoming committees to visitors and have official meetings twice a month.



Cal would like to pass on some opinions of other students:

"I believe the best training for responsible citizenship that I get in school, comes from civic class. I am glad that it is a required subject, because I think everyone should take it. In civics we learn all about our government, how it is run, who runs it, and why we need all the different departments and commissions. A responsible citizen should know about his government so that he can be a part of it intelligently.

We learn also about voting which is a duty and a privilege of a good citizen. School in itself has a great part in making worthy citizens because a student has to learn how to get along with others; how to stand up for his rights; how to be a part of things, and in general how to be a good citizen of his school so that later he may be a good citizen of his community, state, and nation."

Virginia Rigsby

"Getting along with people is not always the simplest thing to do. It is too easy to disregard the other person's attempt to be friendly. Try to be pleasant and courteous at all times. This will certainly not cause you to lose friends.

Respect the other fellow's views whether you agree with them or not, for he has every right to them. Show your thoughtfulness by being aware of the feelings of others.

Above all, be straightforward in your actions. And remember there is no better place to practice this asset than in the school."

Leroy Dickerson

"I believe that if you go to school at all you will learn to respect the opinion of others, but you can gain more if you try to learn. In classes where you have periods of discussion, others will have opinions better or worse than yours. All of them will help you to understand the topic of discussion better.

I have learned that most people have individual opinions. Respect them! They may be just what you need to complete your understanding."

Virginia Holt

"We, the younger generation, will soon be ruling our country. We will be the community, the tax payers, and all that goes with a free country. To be ready for the job, here are things we should learn in school.

1. We should learn to practice democracy in class and SFC meetings.
2. We should learn to get along well with each other.
3. We should learn to be proud of our school, town, state, and country.
4. We should learn to think for ourselves, so we won't have to depend upon others to do our thinking for us. Communism is based on the idea that people don't think for themselves.
5. We should remember that communism begins where education leaves off.
6. We should know how to preserve our freedom."

David Miller

In their second District 2-AA game of the season, the Canyon Eagles out scored the Hereford Whitefaces with a score of 9-6 in Buffalo Stadium at Canyon, Friday night.

Scoring opened late in the first quarter with Hereford driving 56 yards in five plays. Bill Kelly, Whiteface fullback, played around right end 14 yards for Hereford's first score. The kick for the extra point was wide.

In the second period Canyon was stopped six inches from paydirt after an 84 yard field march. Kelly tried to kick the Whitefaces out of trouble, but stepped back out of the end zone, giving Canyon a safety.

In the same period Canyon was again on the goal line, climax of a long field march. The half time gun stopped play with the score standing 6-2.

Late in the final period the Eagles marched 65 yards in 12 plays, scoring when Lynn Williams, Eagle halfback, went 4 yards over right tackle to make the score. Red Ratliff, Eagle punter, kicker, converted for the extra point.

Next Friday night the Eagles journey to Floydada to meet the Whirlwinds. Floydada and Canyon are tied for second place for district.

B TEAM GAME

Canyon Eagle "B" team lost to Hereford "B" 27 to 12 Thursday night at Hereford.

Canyon received the kickoff and three plays later R. A. Burgess scored a touchdown. The extra point was missed.

In the second quarter R. A. Burgess was injured and was unable to re-enter the game. Hereford tallied and the extra point was made. Halftime score: 7-6.

Early in the third quarter Hereford scored, the extra point was again missed. Canyon recovered Hereford's fumble and James Joyner tallied for Canyon. Canyon's try for the conversion was not counted.

During the fourth quarter Hereford scored twice, both conversions were made.

Cheaper by Dozen Choice of Juniors

"Cheaper by the Dozen," by Frank B. Gilbreth, Jr. and Ernestine Gilbreth Carey has been selected as the junior play for this year.

Members of the cast are Ralph Green, Frances Cunningham, Barbara Glanton, Sarah Jane Colwell, Laura Smith, Peggy Bonds, Elvira Boyd, Dorothy Cleavinger, Lynn McKinney, Doyle Bourn, W. M. Thompson, Ed Harrell, John Miller, Donald McDonald, Dick Dawdy, Willie Mac Weaver, and Tommy Myers.

Stage managers are A. C. Wimberly and Lynn Williams.

The selection was made by a committee conferring with T. L. Devin, sponsor, and recommended by W. A. Moore, speech instructor at West Texas State College.

Tryouts for the play were held Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of last week. Judges casting the play were T. L. Devin, sponsor; Mrs. Cecil Simms, co-sponsor; Mrs. A. K. Knott, and Mrs. Cecil Massey, speech instructor.

HEARING

The United States Supreme Court has denied a hearing to about 4,000 persons of Japanese ancestry, born in this country and residing on the West Coast, who sought official declarations that they were U. S. citizens. While in relocation centers, during World War II, they signed renunciations of American citizenship.

COTTON

Although dry weather and high temperatures in September trimmed 360,000 bales from this year's cotton crop, it still left an indicated production of 16,931,000 bales, the fourth largest crop on record. The new estimate compares with last year's very small crop of 10,012,000 and with the ten-year (1940-49) average of 12,030,000 bales.

OUR DEMOCRACY——by Mat

PRIDE in the JOB

LABOR DAY IS A DAY WHEN ALL OF US WHO WORK WITH HAND AND BRAIN CAN DRAW SATISFACTION FROM THE DIGNITY, FREEDOM AND REWARDS THAT GO WITH A JOB IN OUR DEMOCRACY.

WE CAN RIGHTLY TAKE PRIDE IN AN UNRIVALLED JOB OF PRODUCTION - AND IN THE STANDARD OF LIVING WHICH OUR PRODUCTIVE POWER HAS MADE POSSIBLE.

AND WE CAN BE PROUD, TOO, OF THE THRIFT WITH WHICH WE HAVE USED OUR EARNINGS TO MAKE THE MIGHTY TOTAL OF INDIVIDUAL SAVINGS THAT FORMS THE FINANCIAL BACKBONE OF THE INDUSTRIES THAT SERVE THE NATION.

A. F. RESERVES

The main underlying reason for the Air Force's current experimental reclassification of Air Force reservists is to bring its information up-to-date on each reservist. For instance, if you're an Air Force reservist and, in the past few years, have become a dentist, the chances are you won't return to the old gun post if you are recalled to duty. Checks will be made of present physical condition, occupational qualifications and availability status.

DEFICIT

The Government wound up the first quarter of the current fiscal year $2,614,986,764 in the red — the biggest single-quarter deficit in history except in all-out war years. Defense spending alone accounted for $9,232,000,000, compared with only $3,594,000,000 for the same period of 1950. Total spending for the first quarter totaled $14,988,766,353 compared with $9,048,608,072 in the first quarter of 1950.

JOBLESS FRAUD

About 18,000 persons filed faked claims to unemployment compensation, amounting to a total of $1,151,284, during the three months of April, May and June, according to the Labor Department. Director Robert Goodwin, of the Labor Department's Bureau of Employment Security, said the states are conducting campaigns to nab the chiselers.

BIRTHDAY DINNER HONORS JACK PRUETT SUNDAY

A birthday dinner honoring Jack Pruett was given in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Pruett Sunday, November 11. Those attending were Burton Davis, Garland Ruthart, and Hubert Green.

Eric Johnston, Economic Stabilizer: "Any disturbances in our economy are felt throughout Europe like rumblings of a major earthquake on a seismograph."

Richard J. Cushing, Roman Catholic Archbishop: "Once the rural areas disintegrate or decline, the great cities are doomed to starvation if not extinction."

Charles E. Wilson, Defense Mobilizer: "The next eight months will test whether we are ready for the role of world leadership that has been thrust upon us."

Michael V. DiSalle, Price Stabilizer: "Our objective must be to keep from increasing prices and to reduce them wherever possible."

Bertram Russell, author: "If democracy prevails, there will ultimately be no poverty, no war and there will be a general diffusion of liberty."

New York Times editorial: "This nation has to take a multi-billion-dollar sock in the economic solar plexus."

Synthetic Analgesic Rated More Lasting Than Morphine

A new, synthetic pain-killing drug made from coal tars has been described by two Pittsburgh physicians after extensive clinical trial as giving more effective and more lasting relief from pain than morphine with a significantly lower incidence of nausea and vomiting.

The drug, called Dromoran, was synthesized in Switzerland by research workers of Hoffmann-La-Roche, Inc. An adequate substitute for morphine, which is made from poppies grown in the Middle and Far East, long has been sought by scientists in the United States to free the nation from dependency on lines of supply vulnerable to international tensions. Dromoran is now being manufactured in the United States by Hoffmann-LaRoche from coal tar derivatives which are readily available and plentiful.

The Pittsburgh physicians, Drs. Erik Keutmann and Francis F Foldes, both of Mercy Hospital, reported in the New England Journal of Medicine that they used the new synthetic analgesic on 311 patients following surgery to relieve pain. A similar group of 312, carefully matched as to age and sex, were given morphine to allow comparison of results.

The doctors reported that Dromoran acted as quickly after injection as did morphine, but noted this difference: ". . . its duration was somewhat longer." The first dose, they stated, afforded complete relief in 66.5 per cent of the cases as against 46.2 per cent for morphine under the same conditions.

Morphine failed completely in 5.8 per cent of the patients. Only 2.6 per cent got no relief from pain with Dromoran. Drs. Keutmann and Foldes summarized their findings in these words:

"Dromoran gave complete relief from pain in a considerably larger percentage of cases than did morphine, and with Dromoran the incidence of the most troublesome side effects, nausea and emesis (vomiting), was decreased."

Consumers' Buying Power Rated Ahead of Last Year

Real income of the typical consumer—that is, his cash income in terms of present prices—was $1.17 as compared with the dollar he had last year, according to the latest monthly index reported by Investors Diversified Services.

For the purposes of the IDS index, the "typical" consumer is presumed to draw cash income from the major sources in proportion to the national ratio and his expenses are estimated according to the portions allotted to the different categories in the family budget.

Commenting on the latest report, Galen Van Meter, vice chairman of Investors Diversified Services, pointed out that wage earners and farmers have fared best during the rearmament period but that investment income has shown a steady increase.

"One of the best weapons against inflation," declared Mr. Van Meter, "is the investment of money at attractive earnings rate. That such rates have been available and have proved attractive to investors has been an important factor in keeping prices from rising no faster than they have in relation to income. There is increasing evidence that consumers have nearly completed such anticipatory buying as the Korean crisis induced and are beginning to prefer invested funds to durable and semi-durable goods at inflationary prices."

Call Your Color

Colors which have never before been seen are being produced daily at the University of Illinois. Inspired by a spherical shaving mirror, Prof. Jozef Cohen of the psychology department has produced a machine which can mix colors in proportions nature never has known, or produce intense simple colors. More important, any color or mixture can be produced or repeated with scientific accuracy. He terms the machine an "analytic-synthetic-colorimetric - apparatus" or briefly, "ASCA". The viewer looks through a binocular-like eyepiece into a sphere the size of a big bowling ball. Inside the white sphere he sees a disk the size of a telephone dial. Here is where the color appears, or two colors, as the disk can be split vertically and a different color shown on each half.

Follow Your Personality

Home furnishings, like clothing, should be chosen to express the personality of the owner. In even so simple a thing as a place mat for the table, one's choice may be determined by one's personality. One type of person will instinctively choose a lightweight mat of fine linen thread with a delicate design of drawn work suggesting the use of fine crystal and china. Another type will choose a mat of heavy cotton yarn, sturdy in texture, which is associated with heavy pottery and wooden candleholders. Both choices portray types of personality which the Chinese centuries ago sensed in life forces and designated as Yin and Yang. The Yin person likes fragile, delicate fabrics, fine lines, and light gay colors. The Yang person is drawn toward the heavier fabrics and sturdy utensils with an emphasis on strength, weight, and depth of color.

Here's why Fordomatic puts them all in the past!

For the past year, automotive writers, engineers and owners have been raving about a new kind of automatic driving . . . and here's why you get it only in Ford Cars:

All the power you need when you need it!

It gives you instant "GO"! It practically drives itself!

Some automatics have this

The automatic drive some cars offer you is a torque converter which multiplies torque without the use of gears. Its advantage is a smooth flow of power. Its disadvantage is a smaller range of torque multiplication which requires more power from the engine and an uneconomical axle ratio which increases costs.

Some automatics have this

Other cars offer an automatic drive that uses automatic gears (as illustrated in simplified form at right) instead of a torque converter. The advantage here is more "go," more control and greater economy. The disadvantage is that this system is not as smooth, nor as jerk-free as a torque converter.

But Fordomatic has both

Yes, Fordomatic has a torque converter plus automatic gears. It brings you only the advantages of both drives.

Unlike cars with only a torque converter (which start and cruise all in one drive gear), Fordomatic starts fast and smooth in Intermediate Gear then shifts itself into Drive Gear.

Fordomatic FORD

Fordomatic Drive optional on V-8 models at extra cost. Equipment, accessories and trim subject to change without notice.

Hop Graham Gives The Answer to the News Suppression

W. H. "Hop" Graham in the State Line Tribune:

I have been in the newspaper business almost 40 years, and during all this experience my hardest task of writing a news story fell my lot this week.

Many people feel that the newspapers take delight in publishing stories that have a sensational angle. I can't answer for the rest of the newspaper boys, but as for me, it really hurts my very soul to be placed in a position where I must give publicity to items that are of a sensational nature.

And yet, when a newspaper has thousands of readers who are paying for the paper in order to get the news, the publisher has an obligation to these subscribers that he cannot sidestep.

Often there has been an occasion when I have been requested to withhold unfavorable publicity on individuals. Nothing would please me better than to be able to grant such requests. Some people do not realize that an editor has no choice in such matters. He is bound by his obligation to print many items that he would much prefer be left out of the paper.

But he has no choice!

Just Between You, Me, and The Gatepost

Right now there's more enthusiasm than ever about the successful outcome of Dollar Day values in Canyon. Merchants did a thriving business last Dollar Day and they seem to be of the opinion now that the longer this practice is continued, the bigger it will grow, both for customers and merchants.

Wonder how many cars got caught without anti-freeze last week? The sudden hard freeze was of such a nature that it could do plenty of damage to those who left pure water in the radiator, and that's the voice of experience.

As long as there's a gripe in the air there's no use bypassing the oldest we know, the one about taxes. Many folks noticed a new chip taken off the paycheck with November 1st. The chisel that keeps biting into the check is the federal tax that comes out before the worker gets it. Then when he starts to spend it there are also numerous hidden taxes that whittle down the purchasing power to today's dollar.

After this week-end high school football will rapidly draw to a close. Eyes will be on district winners and speculation will be sharp as to which squad will emerge as state champion. Clubs that lost out on the way up the ladder of victories are gritting out a determination that next year things will be different. Another part of the gridiron attention is also deflected to the college teams, bowl games and the professional games that are being played. The good cheer of holidays will wipe the heartbreak of many losses, dull the glow of victories and set the stage for another sport, basketball.

The Randall County Junior Livestock Association is getting the renewed activity needed for stimulating a better program and additional members. New plans are being made and carried out for a larger organization which will have a bigger place in the community. In fact, the organization has a lot of plans cooking that will provide a greater degree of prosperity for the entire community.

Tom Black recently spruced up the building on the southeast corner of the square with a coat of green paint. He recently bought the building and removed the trees from around it. The new paint job gives the building a well-polished look. It also shows up the marble columns, in front of the building, to a great advantage. The structure was the first brick building in Canyon, but to look at it you would think it was one of the latest.

Last week Cecil Massey was on the search for new furniture for his office. It seems that the Red Cross needed theirs.

Why is it that all the best jokes are about preachers or women drivers? This joke is about a lady who was driving about 80 miles per hour and a patrolman pulled up and motioned her to the side of the road. Above the roar of the motor she screamed at the cop, "don't stop me now, I have to hurry and get home before I have an accident, you see there are no brakes on this car." That's the way it goes with women drivers. You never can tell when they give hand signals whether they're going to stop or make a right turn. The one thing that you do know is that the door glass is rolled down.

Then there's the joke about the renter who paid his landlord with a check and said, "if this is no good, bring it back and I'll give you another just like it."

The progress of a community can be accurately compared to that of an individual. Too many people believe that knowledge and genius are needed for success in any field. This is not so much the case as is popularly believed. When you look under the surface of genius you'll almost invariably find directed effort and hard work were required to bring about the ingenious incident. A lot of people could learn a lot of knowledge by taking a second look at the law of inertia. This law says that a body at rest remains at rest until acted upon by some outside force. It isn't likely that the law meant the human body, but there are a lot of people who seem to believe it did.

If the human being is to be successful and if a group of humans plan to have a progressive community, they must move by initiative created from a spark within themselves and not wait for an outside push. There are too many failures who excuse their non-accomplishments by saying that they didn't get the breaks. These so-called breaks aren't something that just happen, they're brought about by hard work and intelligent management. Everyone has problems, some people tackle their problems while others expend their energy voicing useless complaints.

To Combat Rabies In State, Pamphlet Gives All the Facts

To help combat rabies in Texas the Texas State Department of Health has prepared a twenty page pamphlet entitled Facts About Rabies. According to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, this information will be sent to citizens upon request.

In the type of rabies called "furious" the animal is irritable and will snap at nonexistent objects or attack anything in its path. In the excitement stage the animal is extremely vicious and violent. Paralysis follows this stage, usually affecting the hind legs first. Death follows the paralysis in four to seven days after the outbreak of the first symptoms.

In "dumb" rabies the symptoms are drowsiness and paralysis of the lower jaw. To all outward appearances the animal has a bone or some other object lodged in his throat. Such animals do not roam but will strike at movement. They are completely insensitive to pain and will usually fall into a coma and die about three to ten days after the first symptoms appear.

Dr. Cox states that in Texas the dog, fox, cat and skunk are the animals most apt to cause rabies. Last year the State Department of Health examined 4,491 heads of 25 different animals for the purpose of rabies diagnosis. Only 1,220 or 27% were found to have had the disease. Of those found rabid there were 868 dogs, 167 fox, 59 cats and 43 were skunks. The highest percentage of positive rabies found on examinations are during February, March, and April.

General Matthew Ridgway, Supreme Commander in Japan, finds that his orders from Washington call for him to buy a truce in Korea, if it can be made to appear as something short of surrender. The Communists are willing to deal, but only if they can have some appearance of victory.

Russia's Stalin is having to pay attention to cattle rustling in the Soviet Union. "Pravda" complains that Russian peasants are slyly carting off valuable livestock from state-controlled farms and replacing them with their own worthless scrubs.

Winston Churchill, as Britain's new Prime Minister, is to be forced before long to approach U. S. for a new loan or gift of dollars. The figure being mentioned is 2 billion.

Lions Governor To Visit Local Club on November 21st

BOYD MEADOR

Boyd Meador, of McLean, Governor of District 2T1, Lions International, will pay his official visit to the Canyon Lions Club on November 21 at 12 o'clock.

Since this is Governor Meador's official call on the local club, one of 73 in the district, President Emmitt Smith is calling on every member to be present.

Meador moved to McLean from Clarendon in 1927. He became a member of the Lions Club in January, 1929, only a few months after its organization, and he has served the club in every office except secretary. He is a past Zone Chairman, has a perfect attendance record of 22 years and holds the Senior Master Key for having obtained 25 new members for the McLean Club. In 1950, he was chosen "Lion of the Year" by his home club and he served as Deputy District Governor during the 1949-50 fiscal year.

Governor Meador is an active member of the McLean Church of Christ and he is also active in various types of civic work. He served as Councilman for the City of McLean for 7 years and then as Mayor for 7 years. He has been a member of the McLean Volunteer Fire Department since 1927 and has been Fire Chief for the past 6 years. At present he is an associate Director of the McLean Junior Chamber of Commerce.

What time Governor Meador has left over from Lions Club affairs, Church work and various civic activities, he spends in his insurance and real estate business.

Abandoned Car Investigated

The report of an abandoned car sent Deputy J. L. Pounds out of town on an investigation trip last Thursday afternoon. According to the report, the car had been sitting beside the road since Monday.

When Pounds arrived at the scene he found an old model Ford V-8 nosed down into a shallow ditch beside the road. Nothing was present to indicate that the car had been stolen. The battery was down, the gasoline tank appeared to be empty, but there were no flat tires on the car. The ignition lock had no keys in it, but the current had been wired around the lock so that a key was not necessary.

A DOCTOR'S DILEMMA

A new doctor was the only one available when Mr. Kelly's wife was taken ill. Called to the Kelly home, he went upstairs to the sick room but came down in a few minutes to inquire, "Have you got a corkscrew?" He took the instrument and went upstairs for the second time.

Several minutes later he was back again. "Got a screwdriver?" he asked the anxious Kelly. Instrument in hand, he went upstairs again.

Almost immediately he was back. "A chisel and mallet, quickly," he demanded.

The distraught husband could stand it no longer. "For Heaven's sake, doctor," he begged, "what's the matter with my wife?"

"Don't know yet," was the reply; "can't get my medicine bag open."

ATTA GIRL!

A philosopher entertained a profound respect for the practical side of life.

One day, assisted by his son, he tried to lead a young heifer into his barn. The son grasped the animal's ear and attempted to pull from the front, while his father pushed with all his might and main from behind. But the stubborn beast refused to budge an inch.

In the midst of their pulling and hauling they were interrupted by a laughing Irish servant girl. Motioning the two men aside, she thrust a finger into the heifer's mouth, and the simple creature, expecting to obtain nourishment from the proffered digit, obediently followed her into the barn.

That night the philosopher gleefully wrote in his journal: "I like people who can do things."

One-Way Streets Unclogging Congested Traffic Arteries

One-way streets are growing in popularity as a means of unclogging congested traffic arteries in urban areas, the American Public Works Association reports.

Chicago is the most recent major city to unveil plans for making streets in its famed Loop area one-way thoroughfares. Initially, only two streets carrying east- and west-bound traffic in the downtown section would be affected, but at a later date four other streets would be designated for one-way traffic only. The proposed changes are designed to speed traffic and relieve congestion. Newark, N.J., has also established a series of one-way streets linking its downtown section with the Pulaski Skyway and to neighboring industrial districts.

Baltimore, which first tried one way streets in 1939, has found through its "before and after" studies that making a street one-way results in an average of 100 per cent increase in traffic volume, a 75 to 90 per cent reduction in delays, and a 10 to 15 per cent reduction in accidents. However, the Association pointed out that the Baltimore studies did not mark the effect of one-way operations alone, but also the effect of imposing additional parking restrictions, installing additional traffic signals and substituting bus operations for street cars.

In Los Angeles, after test trials on two streets proved successful, the downtown businessmen's association endorsed a proposal to convert four streets to one-way in order to relieve the downtown traffic problem. According to traffic engineers who followed the Los Angeles experiment, the establishment of one way streets was in no way detrimental to established businesses on the thoroughfares.

This conclusion is supported by a study made by Fresno, Cal., of merchant reaction in 50 cities of more than 50,000 population where one-way streets are being used. Merchants in 90 per cent of these cities report that one-way streets have no harmful effect on adjacent businesses. Merchant associations in only two cities felt that the one-way streets were harmful to business, although, initially, merchants led the opposition to conversion to one-way streets. The Fresno survey also showed that in 71 per cent of the cities, change-over to one-way streets had a beneficial effect on property values.

Eating Peas With Knife Was Once in Popularity

Although it may shock Emily Post, eating peas with a knife isn't unmannerly—it's just old-fashioned!

According to research experts with the World Book Encyclopedia, forks have been used for cooking since ancient times, but table forks were curiosities even during colonial days.

It is believed that the table fork was first used in Italy during the 1100's. The wife of an Italian nobleman considered herself too dainty to touch the greasy food with her fingers. She used a tiny gold fork which was modeled after the long carving fork. A guest at the table wrote an account of the event and described her method of eating as "luxurious beyond belief. Instead of eating like other people, she had her food cut into little pieces and ate with a two-pronged fork."

However, grasping the meat with the hand and spearing it with a knife continued to be the popular custom, and the tiny fork was soon forgotten.

In England during the 1600's, an English dandy was ridiculed for his daintiness when he tried a table fork at social gatherings. The fork "fad" gained momentum and tiny forks of precious metals began to appear in all European courts.

Forks became a common table implement only after mass production made them an inexpensive item.

Soldier Snaker

American soldiers in Korea are contributing to the natural history collections of the Smithsonian Institution. Among the recent acquisitions are a collection of Korean reptiles sent to the Smithsonian by Corp. William E. Old, Jr., of Norfolk, Va., who even before his enlistment was an enthusiastic amateur herpetologist. In a bomb-blasted Korean schoolhouse he found uninjured a small collection of native reptiles skillfully preserved in alcohol and well labeled as to species. This collection evidently had been brought together by some native school teacher. It would have been completely lost except for the timely arrival of one American enlisted man who was an amateur scientist. Corporal Old also has sent back several other specimens collected in Korea.

Crop Diseases

Crop losses running into millions of dollars are caused by virus diseases, such as the mosaic disease of tobacco and tomatoes, the bushy stunt disease of tomatoes, bean mosaic, tobacco necrosis, peach yellows, aster yellows, sugar beet yellows, and the mosaic disease of turnips. Not all plant virus diseases are harmful. A tulip disease known as tulip break, for example, "transforms ordinary flowers into beautifully variegated ones," and an ornamental plant called abutilon is turned into a "far superior decorative plant by infection with a mosaic disease."

AAUW Honor Local Women With Grants Named for Them

The Texas division of the American Association of University Women recently honored two pioneer Canyon women. The women were the late Victoria Younger Conner and Mary E. Hudspeth. Both played leading roles in the development of Canyon and the surrounding area. The posthumous honor they received was in the form of two $500 grants.

Mrs. Conner was the wife of L. G. Conner, the founder of Canyon. It was also L. G. Conner who donated the land for the site of West Texas State College. Canyon was founded in 1889 and the college in 1910.

Miss Hudspeth became a member of the first faculty of the college and later was the first Dean of Women. She was still with the college at her death in 1942. In the Canyon chapter of the AAUW, Miss Hudspeth was a charter member and the president, as well as one of the organizers, of the first Canyon honor society.

Mrs. Conner died in 1947. Before her death she was also instrumental in church work and the promotion of educational facilities for women.

The grants named in honor of the two former civic workers will both go to Dr. Adelheide Schimak, an Austrian teacher of English, French and German. This year Dr. Schimak will study at the University of Texas, the University of Chicago and at Washington, D. C.

Dr. Margaret Lee Wiley, who is head of the English department at Commerce and also a former member of WTSC, has been honored by the AAUW. A $2,000 benefit has been named for her. It will go to Dr. Jytte Muss, Mount Holyoke College physiology professor.

"This, dear," he said, in a soft celestial voice, "is Heaven." And picking up a harp he flew away.

Two-speed rear axle available, too
Cross-steering, wide front tread
Heavy frame; long, strong springs; big capacity axles

1 MORE ECONOMICAL POWER

A big, high-compression 236.6-cubic-inch engine developing 109 h.p. You get the right engine for top economy with aluminum pistons, four piston rings (top ring chrome-plated), exhaust valve seat inserts and other extra values.

2 SPEEDIER DELIVERIES

Five-speed transmissions, 2-speed rear axles, and choice of axle ratios give you greater pulling power, faster getaways and higher top speeds. Low loading height and hinged stake center sections help you to save work and time.

3 EASIER HANDLING

You can turn sharper, maneuver better and park easier with a Dodge 2-ton "Job-Rated" truck . . . because you get wide front tread, cross-steering (except C.O.E. models), short wheelbase and worm-and-roller steering gears.

4 BIGGER PAYLOADS

In Dodge 2-ton "Job-Rated" trucks you can move extra-big payloads without overloading. That's because a lot more of your load is carried on the front axle. Deep, rugged frame and all-steel body stakes and sills mean extra strength.

THIS 2-TON CHASSIS is engineered to fit your body needs. On wheelbases of 128", 152", 170", and 192", it will accommodate a wide variety of bodies, from 8 ft. to 18½ ft. in length.

Dodge 1½-ton "Job-Rated" trucks provide similar features and advantages to give you better performance on your job.

The choice of champions! 59 out of 97 State Champions chose Dodge to drive in the 1951 National Truck Roadeo!
